

Must all shell scheme stands be so boring and uneconomical?

As an exhibitor you normally have two options given by the exhibition organizer: A “shell scheme” package with plain white walls, or the less expensive “space only” alternative.

The easy way out, even if it means paying a higher sqm-price, is the “shell scheme” package. Unfortunately, you will then look like everybody else at the show who ordered the same stand package. And not only that - since these are rental systems, you have to pay again the next time you exhibit. Not really the most attractive and economical way of taking part at trade shows.

Now there is an alternative!

The attractive and eye-catching ISOframe Shell Scheme Fabric Stand from Mark Bric will help you to stand out and be seen – just clad the system with your colourful graphics. An easy-to-use and self-build exhibition system, which can be easily transported to the show in your own car.

On top of that, it is an extremely economical solution as well. Apart from paying for the stand only once, you can choose the less expensive “space only” alternative next time you exhibit.

Altogether, the perfect shell scheme stand!

Stand 3x2 metre – height 2,5 m
